

Brilliant Brain Collection 2022

Laura Bundesen - neuro artist

Brilliant Brain Collection 2022

About the collection:

Nearly 1 in 6 people suffer from neurological conditions. From Alzheimer's, MS, and Parkinson's, to mental illness, brain tumors and strokes. Almost everyone knows someone who struggles with a brain condition.

Unique and affordable, these pins, earrings and coloring book are appreciated by anyone with a brain and especially adored by healthcare professionals, scientists, sufferers of neurologic disorders and their loved ones.

About the artist:

Laura Bundesen made her first two neuro art pieces in 2014 and became instantly fascinated by the human brain. The positive response to her work was immediate. Since then, she has sold to enthusiastic crowds at the Society for Neuroscience annual convention and she has been commissioned by Women in Neurology, the American Brain Tumor Association and the Autistic Self Advocacy Network.

Reviews

"We love carrying Laura Bundesen's Brain Pins here at MASS MoCA! The quality is excellent and they make such a fun and unique gift." - Phyllis Criddle, Director of Retail Operations

"The pins are outstanding--creative, clever and a show-stopper"
- Dr. David R.

"This is the perfect thank you gift to give my medical specialist." - Kate S.

"Our large order of Brilliant Brain coloring books arrived wonderfully fast allowing them to be distributed to a group of teens with epilepsy who will be participating in an epilepsy education and support program! We will use the wonderful art in them to be a supportive activity for the kids to do together! Thank you so much Laura for your lovely and beautiful work and highlighting the awesomeness of the brain!" - Inna H., Neurologist

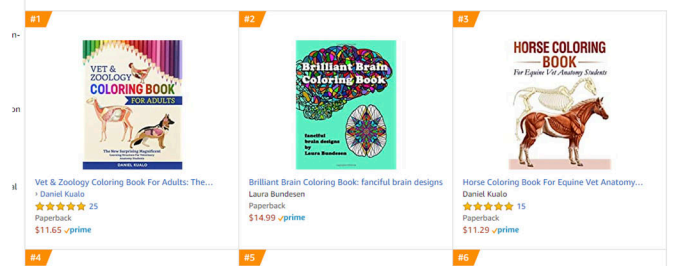

"My students were tickled pink by the brain pins for their thank you gifts and graduation presents. I should have ordered more! FYI, they chose the pins over chocolate, so you know they must be pretty darn special. Thanks, Laura!" - Caroline W., Neuroscience Professor
